

CSM Divorce Solutions Expands Services and Transitions to Form a New Business Entity: Divorce U Solutions

CATHERINE SHANAHAN, CDFA became a Certified Divorce Financial Analyst and trained mediator after 25 years in the financial industry and her own life experience with divorce. She and co-founder Karen Chellew created Divorce U Solutions to create a space for women experiencing divorce to be heard and have their financial portraits explained to them in order to start moving forward with a plan.

KAREN CHELLEW has spent her entire career in the legal field and is a passionate advocate for women. She also navigated her way through divorce and knows firsthand how important it is to assemble the right team for you. Karen is your trusted advisor to build that team and walk alongside you through the legal process.

Catherine Shanahan Announces Partnership With Karen Chellew, Creating a New Firm Providing Guidance to Women Going Through the Divorce Process

Catherine Shanahan, CDFA, recently announced the transition of her firm, CSM Divorce Solutions, into a new entity: Divorce U Solutions. Divorce U Solutions will offer financial analysis and review of settlement options, mediation, and legal liaison services to assist women navigating the divorce process.

A 25-year veteran of the financial industry, Shanahan experienced firsthand the need for women to have a financial advisor looking out for their best interests while going through her own divorce. She soon became a Certified Divorce Financial Analyst and trained mediator, founding CSM Divorce Solutions in 2011.

"It's a few years later, and I've realized there is even more information that can help women through the divorce process," said Shanahan. "Knowing where to start to put together your divorce team. Knowing that you need a divorce team. Finding the right attorney. Learning how to budget your support and manage finances after the divorce. All of this and more have led me to this current chapter, partnering with Karen Chellew to form Divorce U Solutions."

Divorce U Solutions provides more than financial analysis and guidance with the legal system. Shanahan and Chellew create a space where women can go to be heard, to release the emotions of this tumultuous time, and to start moving forward with a plan.

"Karen shares my passion for helping women through the divorce process, and, with her added expertise in the legal field, we now provide all of the services I'd hoped for," said Shanahan.
